ANNUAL MEETING

The forty-fourth annual meeting of the Alumni Association was held in the University Gymnasium at 10:30 A. M., May 4. A most enthusiastic meeting was held with the regular order of business being conducted.

Group leaders from New Jersey, Cumberland, Washington, Philadelphia and Frederick gave brief resumés of activities for their groups during the year. The secretary added that other groups are organized in Pittsburgh, Richmond, North Carolina, Baltimore County, Connecticut and elsewhere. The Hon. Wm. P. Cole, president of 1910, speaking for his class which was celebrating its twenty-fifth reunion, said they were having a bully time and had more than 75% present. He also announced that the class was presenting a "Then-and-Now Book" to the Association and University.

In the order of new business, the Association authorized the president to create by appointment a board of five trustees to manage the University of Maryland Alumni Fund and give more concerted effort to the procuring of contributions.

A resolution, designating next year as Grand Reunion Year for all classes and Alumni Day again as the first Saturday in May with a program similar to the one this year, was unanimously and enthusiastically passed. The resolution was made by W. R. Maslin, who also stated that every Alumnus should resolve to be present.

Following this the nominating committee made the following nominations for the year 1935-36:

President, T. B. Symons, '02; Vice-Pres., F. B. Hines, '00; Sec.-Treas., G. F. Pollock, '23.

The Alumni Board: Representative of College of Agriculture, Donald H. Adams, '28; Representative of Education, P. W. Chichester, '20; Representatives at Large, Miss Carolyn Chesser, and W. J. Van Doren, '25.

Class Of 1910, Celebrated A Great 25th Reunion

At the Annual Alumni Reunion the Class of 1910 was in the limelight, celebrating their twenty-fifth anniversary. Many of the members who are married brought their wives and a regular family get-together was held. The class boasts of several members who have gained prominence in national and state affairs as well as others in their respective professions. They proudly refer to themselves as "the great class of 1910."

A great deal of credit is due Maj. O. H. Saunders for his efforts in arranging the Reunion and also the compilation of "THEN AND NOW BOOK" for the class. The book was dedicated to Colonel Conley, who was commandant of the cadets back in the days of 1910. A copy of the book has been presented to the University and the Alumni Office

More Than 650 Take Part In Intramural Activities

Intramurals, otherwise recreational activities, in which Maryland is an outstanding leader, thrived at College Park during the year under the direction of Charles LeRoy Mackert. More than 650 male students took part in the varied events.

Old Liners also more than held their own in extramural matches with other colleges of the section and Temple Jarrell won the sectional intercollegiate horse-shoe championship.

Governor Nice Delivered Commencement Address

His Excellency, Harry W. Nice, Governor of Maryland, delivered the commencement address at the one hundred and twenty-eighth graduation exercises held by the University, June 1, at College Park. More than seven hundred were conferred degrees by Dr. R. A. Pearson, president of the University, before a crowd of nearly six thousand people.

The exercises were held at 11 A. M., in the Ritchie Coliseum and were followed by a reception for the faculty, students and their friends on the University's campus.

During the Commencement Week a gala social program preceded the Graduation Exercises, which included the Junior-Senior German, Rossbourg Dance, Senior Banquet and the Commencement Ball. All except the Senior Banquet, which was held at the National Press Club in Washington, were held in the University's Gymnasium. The Gym was elaborately decorated and the famous Show Boat Band, Jack Bruce of Pittsburgh, rendered the music for all occasions.

The baccalaureate services were held on Sunday, May 26, in the Auditorium with Rev. Henry Whiting, '31, delivering the address.

Many former graduates were among those to receive advanced degrees from their Alma Mater. The degree of Doctor of Philosophy was awarded Arthur D. Bowers, '31, Fletcher P. Weitch, Jr., '31, Edgar P. Walls, '03, and Marcus R. Hatfield, '31. Masters degrees were awarded Howard L. Alderton, '34, Stanley D. Brown, '34, Helen Farrington, '33, Louise T. Saylor, '32, James R. Ullrich, '33, and Naomi S. Yates, '34. Professional engineering degrees were awarded Charles F. Cashell, '31, John H. Mitton, '31, and John T. O'Neill, '31; in civil engineering; Frank T. Chesnut, '24, in electrical; and Robert L. Evans, '29, in mechanical.

Among the graduates were several sons of Alumni. Frank S. Hoffecher, '14, had a son to get his degree from his Alma Mater as did T. D. Jarrell, '09.

Real Program Entertained Old Grads May 3 and 4

Many Alumni returned to the campus on May 3 and 4 to witness the greatest reunion program ever presented. Activities happened in rapid succession from Friday morning until the final curtain fell Saturday at midnight.

The class of 1910, celebrating their twenty-fifth anniversary, naturally was the leading class at the Reunion. They began Friday evening with a banquet at which fourteen of the twenty living members were present.

Flag Pole Presented

The program began with the Annual Military Competitive Drill on Friday morning after which the new flag pole, made possible by the combined contributions of the Alumni Association and the Class of '34, was presented to the University. The entire military unit surrounded the pole, forming a hollow square, and the flag was officially raised by Major Alvan C. Gillem, professor of Military Science and Tactics. Dr. Symons, president of the Alumni Association, Edward Quinn, president of the Student Government last year, and Norwood Sothoron, president of the Class of '34, made the presentation to Dr. R. A. Pearson, President of the University.

In the afternoon, the Maryland Federation of Women's Clubs, headed by Mrs. Randolph Allen, president, dedicated the formal garden in the rear of Margaret Brent Hall. Mrs. Edward Erk was chairman of the program. Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, a Regent of the University and a contributor to the garden, was present for the ceremonies.

May Day

Later in the afternoon, the ninth annual presentation of May Day was held, only to be terminated midway in the third act by a sudden storm. In the evening many fraternities and sororities held their spring formals.

By 9:00 A. M., Saturday, May 4, many Alumni were on hand for the day's festivities, which began when the annual meeting was called to order at 10:45 A. M., in the University Gymnasium with approximately one hundred Alumni present. The business of the meeting is discussed elsewhere in this issue.

Immediately following the meeting, all journeyed to the Stadium and had lunch. The remainder of the afternoon was similar to a three-ring circus, with a baseball game, tennis matches, track meet, and a lacrosse game comprising the program.

At the close of events, Alumni and faculty gathered at the University Gymnasium for the Supper Dance which was well attended and greatly enjoyed. In addition to the dancing, a program of entertainment was presented by a special cast of talented faculty members and students.

After 9:00 P. M., students joined with the Alumni in celebrating the forty-fourth Reunion on the Hill.

Heads Alumni for 1935-36

T. B. SYMONS, '02

Dr. Symons, as head of the University's Extension Service, has displayed his ability as a capable organizer and leader. Great things are expected for the Association during his tenure of office. He has previously been Secretary-Treasurer of the Association from 1908 to 1913 and again from 1926 to 1932. He has always been closely associated with the Alumni development of the University ever since graduation.

Former Classmates Honor Bozie Berger

When Bozie Berger, Maryland's former all-star athlete, visited Washington, May 27, to play with the Cleveland Indians against the Senators at Clark Griffith Stadium, the University of Maryland student body greeted him with a "Berger Day."

Bozie, who plays second base for Cleveland, was presented with a travelling bag from the student body and a gold cup to be known as the Berger Trophy. Each year the name of the outstanding baseball player will be placed on this cup, which will be kept in the Trophy Room of the Coliseum.

The presentations were made by H. C. Byrd, who described Berger as possessing the greatest competitive spirit of any athlete ever to come within his notice.

Bozie demonstrated this spirit by turning in for the afternoon a faultless fielding performance and by slashing out two doubles in four trips to the plate.

Maryland's Cattle Judging Team Wins

Placing ahead of 590 other college students, representing twenty-four state teams, the University of Maryland Dairy Cattle Judging Team won first place in the College Division of the Annual Board's Dairyman Dairy Cattle Judging Contest this spring.

60 Of 85 Insignia Winners Are Due To Return In Fall

THERE were 85 Old Liners to win athletic letters during the 1934-35 term and as 60 of them are due back at College Park next fall, the outlook for the immediate future in sports is bright.

However, such men as John Simpson, Dick Nelson and Norwood Sothoron in football, Lyman McAboy and Stew McCaw in boxing, Earl Widmyer, Bob Archer, Warren Evans and Bob Boucher in track, Sam Silber, Leonard Rombro and Ramsay Thomas in lacrosse, and Bob Love, Steve Physioc, Sothoron, Nelson and McAboy in baseball leave gaps that will be hard to fill.

Track and baseball face the most difficult situation.

KELLER STARTS, ENDS HOMER AGAINST DUKE

Guckeyson and Webb Gain Leading Athletic Awards

Bill Guckeyson, a soph who came from Bethesda-Chevy Chase, Md., High, and Walter Webb, a junior from Vienna, Md., were awarded the main athletic prizes of the year.

Guckeyson, football and basket-ball star, who broke the javelin and discus marks and hurled the shot winning distances in doing his big bit for the track team, was awarded the gold watch given by the class of 1908 for excellence in athletics and the man who typifies the best in athletics. He was the third soph ever to be so honored.

For the benefit of the "Old Timers," Zeke Bailey and Andy Nisbet were the other two.

Webb received the Charles L. Linhardt ring for the Maryland man who was outstanding in athletics for the year. He has been an exceptional boxer for two seasons and is a letter man in lacrosse.

Pair of Four-letter Men Produced in Single Year

Maryland produced two four-letter athletes, the first as far as is known to reach such heights, during the 1934-35 term.

Norwood Sothoron, who was forced to give up baseball with a fractured arm with six games yet to be played, had done enough duty to add a diamond insignia to the ones he had won in football, basket-ball and lacrosse. He was All-Southern in football and All-American in lacrosse.

Bernie Buscher, who was only a junior during the past term, followed closely in Sothoron's footsteps, as he qualified for his baseball letter a couple games later. He already had won the "M" in football, basket-ball and lacrosse.

Sothoron, though, was a regular in football, lacrosse and baseball, while basket-ball was the only sport in which Buscher was a full-time first stringer, although highly valuable in all.

HOT SCRIMMAGE IN WIN OVER HOPKINS

SPRINT MEDLEY RELAY TEAM THAT WON AMERICAN TITLE

Left to right—Warren Evans, 440; Bob Archer, 220; Earl Widmyer, 220; Coleman Headley, 880. This is the order in which they ran in scoring over ten of the best teams in the Nation in the Penn relay carnival at Philadelphia on April 27. All are Maryland boys—Evans from Hyattsville, Archer from Bel Air, Widmyer from Hagerstown, and Headley from College Park. Their time was 3:28.8, near record figures.

Their feat was the outstanding achievement of the best track season Maryland ever has enjoyed that included winning five of six dual meets and many notable triumphs indoors and outdoors. A mile relay team, composed of Archer, Sonen, Headley and Evans, also beat Princeton and Yale in the New York A. C. indoor games and won both the indoor and outdoor Southern Conference championships, setting a mark of 3:18.7 in the last named.

In fact, the members of the 1934-35 team broke so many records that a list of the all-time University marks is given on this page. All told they set eight new marks and tied one.

Varsity Athletes Capture 69 Per Cent Of Contests

Maryland had a fine year in athletics, one which would be gratifying to any institution and a record that not many match.

Taking part in 78 Varsity contests during 1934-35, the Old Liners won 53 of them, lost 24 and tied one, for a winning percentage of 69 per cent or more than two victories for every reversal.

Basket-ball was the only pastime in which the Terps finished in the "red" and even with the loss of Bernie Buscher, one of its best players, for a stretch and some tough breaks, the quint took 8 of 18 games.

Here is the Varsity record:

Charlie Keller, from Middleton, Md., a sophomore, was the most conspicuous ball player on the Terp varsity nine. Keller, a centerfielder, hit .500 for the season and had the big league scouts looking him over. He, however, plans to stick to his studies until he gets his degree.

Ezekiel, '18, Defends 3 A's

Dr. Mordecai Ezekiel, '18, economic advisor to Secretary Wallace, in a speech before the Chemical Society of Washington, defended the attacks being made against the Agricultural Adjustment Administration regarding the crop curtailment program. He said that industrialists first began the curtailment of production and the farmers were forced to do likewise in self defense. "It was lack of balanced production which made the depression so severe and business leaders do not realize conditions have changed," continued Dr. Ezekiel.

BY DON BLOCK,
Of The Washington Star

THE term "air-minded," as applied to persons who believe themselves familiar with whatever pertains to flying, is probably greatly abused except in the case of John Groves, chief of the Airways Bulletin section, aeronautics branch of the air navigation division, Bureau of Air Commerce, United States Department of Commerce—to identify the young man completely. To further identify John, he is the versatile all-around athlete of twelve seasons ago and was quarterback on the well remembered football eleven of 1923. He is a member of the K. A. fraternity.

To Groves, since 1927 when he first went into the department as a sort of consulting engineer in the matter of building pioneer airports, life has become a business of answering questions and telling aviators where to head in. Himself a licensed pilot and sometime visitor to the majority of the 2,300 airports listed in the skyways Baedeker issued by the Bureau of Air Commerce for flyers, Groves occupies a unique position in the country.

Groves-Font of Air Lore Edits Skyway Bulletin

Hazards such as church spires, treetops, high-tension wires and "dead-spots" in the atmosphere are never a source of anxiety for the motorist. Which way the wind blows on a March dawn and with what speed usually; how to unscramble the code flashing of radio beacons emanating from the little airport at Ogallala, Nebr., on the "N" side of U. S. Highway No. 30"; and whether the landing field at Cow Creek, Oreg., can supply him with gasoline having an octane rating of 81—these are matters, however, of more than ordinary interest to the traveler who mainly has clouds for guide-posts.

Information Bureau Set-up

In order to answer the questions of licensed pilots in the United States, who have grown in numbers from none in 1903 to 14,037 at the present time, some sort of central information bureau had to be set up. The result has been the establishment of the Bureau of Air Commerce, a clearing house of data pertaining to flying fields and air conditions.

Over the air, telegraph, telephone and teletype, from each of the registered airports comes constantly a flood of varied information: improved landing facilities; changing meteorological conditions; hangars in process of construction; altered code flashes of beacons, times of their broadcasting, and topographical aspects of the fields. All this matter comes into the hands of Groves for immediate dissemination in the form of pamphlets, bulletins, letters and answers to inquiries by telephone.

Periodically the bureau issues a fat airway bulletin, called "Descriptions of Airports and Landing Fields in the United States." Besides a section dealing with general airway information, which in itself is a fascinating story and an encyclopedia of aerial intelligence, it contains 48 other divisions for the states, and is broken down into subdivisions for each of the airports within those states.

Full of Airport Lore

Besides aiding in the editing of this bulletin, Groves' main concern is the accumulation and correlation of data about proposed and current changes in all existing fields, and acquisition of full information about new fields recently registered or in process of construction. This information goes out from his department in the form of weekly notices to airmen all over the nation and keeps the larger airway bulletin up to the minute.

As a consequence of years of handling this mass of detail Groves is a walking tome of sky harbors lore. A map of the United States to him is a vivid graph of curved lines, arrows, dots, and numbers, all a system of cerulean shorthand denoting distances across country from one airport to another, wind directions and speeds about the ports, and minute physical topography on and around the landing fields.

Literally, every dot on the two blueprints and aerial-topographical map, each for every one of the airports in the United States, kept on file in the bureau, has a meaning all its own for Groves—haystacks, water towers, steeples and ruts in the runway stand out photographically in his mind. It is his business, when one of the average of 20 requests per day comes in to the bureau—from army, navy, commercial and transport pilots, individual plane owners and oil companies—to give any and all information desired in the matter of air travel. His department is the triple A of the airplane world.

All Requests Given Attention

Requests for airport information come in from all over the world, and no request is too large or small to go unheeded. A recent request asked for weather reports, code flashes and elevations of all beacons, sketches of the fields and topographical maps of the country between 30 separate airports and landing fields in five Southern States from Tennessee to Louisiana. The data went out the same day, complete.

Another individual, a topographical engineer, desired all maps, charts and information which would aid him in assembling a complete airways map of the State of Iowa. On the same day a rancher in Western Texas wrote in that he had put the finishing touches on a private landing field and, inclosing aerial photographs and ground charts, advised the bureau that his field was

OLD LINE ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

By W. H. ("Bill") HOTTEL

With 16 Letter Men Available, Maryland Is Looking To Approaching Football Campaign With Optimism

FOOTBALL already is in the air, and Maryland is looking optimistically to the 1935 season with the outlook that it will have one of its best elevens in years.

Losing only Norwood Sothoron, all-Southern back, and John Simpson, all-State guard, from its 1934 regulars and returning most of its leading reserves, Maryland should be tough to lick, although its schedule of taking on St. John's of Annapolis, Virginia Tech, North Carolina, V.M.I., Florida, Virginia, Indiana, Washington and Lee, Georgetown and Syracuse in that order, is a herculean task, especially in view of the fact that its squad always has limited talent in comparison to its big foes.

Will Be Experienced

Maryland's 1935 team will be a mixture of seniors and juniors with little chance of a sophomore breaking into the line-up unless he displays unusual talent. Sixteen of the 21 letter men and 19 of the leading 26 gridders of 1934 are due back and the 19 are almost certain to play just about all the football for the Old Liners in the schedule that opens with St. John's, an old state rival, on September 28, at College Park, and ends with the game with Syracuse in the Baltimore Stadium on Thanksgiving Day.

Maryland's bulwarks for the 1935 campaign will be:

Louis Ennis, Vic Willis, Charlie Ellinger and Bernie Buscher, ends; John Birkland and Carl Stalfort, tackles; Ed Minion and Charlie Callahan, guards; Bill Andorka, center; Jack Stonebraker, Bill Guckeyson, George Sachs, John Gormley, Ed. Daly, Coleman Headley and Charlie Yeager, backs; all letter men, and Al Farrell, tackle; Ed Fletcher, guard, and Harry Gretz, center, who just missed getting their insignia last fall.

Five Letter Men Lost

In addition to Sothoron and Simpson, Earl Widmyer and Dick Nelson, backs, and Steward McCaw, guard, are letter men of 1934 who will be greatly missed. Nelson was one of the best pass throwers in Dixie.

Wills, all-Southern end last fall and Guckeyson and Minion, who along with him were on the all-America honor roll, should be conspicuous in their play next fall, as should Stonebraker, a flashy and versatile back.

Of the 19 mentioned, only Ennis, Stalford, Minion, Callahan, Gretz and Farrell will be playing as seniors.

Bill Wolfe, guard; Bob Walton, center; Mike Surgent, end, and Waverly Wheeler, Frank DeArmey and Fred Thomas, backs, are the leading gridders to come up from the 1934 freshman squad. All are highly promising, although Wheeler, Thomas and Walton got their first taste of football last fall.

Frosh Squad Green

In fact, the total experience of the 23 candidates on the Freshman squad last fall as high school players was just 29 seasons, an average of only $1\frac{1}{4}$ seasons per man, eleven being entirely new to the pastime. However, that is characteristic of yearling squads at Maryland as football is not played in the country high schools of the State, being fostered only in Baltimore, Frederick, Hagerstown and Cumberland and then not comparable with the big high schools of the North and South.

Maryland's schedule is as follows:

September 28—St. John's, (Annapolis), College Park; October 5—Virginia Tech, Baltimore Stadium; October 12—North Carolina, Baltimore Stadium; October 19—V. M. I., at Lexington, Va; October 26—Florida, Gainesville, Fla; November 2—Virginia, at Charlottesville, Va; November 9—Indiana, Baltimore Stadium; November 16—Washington and Lee, College Park, (HOMECOMING); November 23—Georgetown, Griffith Stadium, Washington; November 28—Syracuse, Baltimore Stadium.

Byrd Considered For President

At the time Mr. Byrd was designated as acting president, it was stated by the Board that he would be considered when the selection of a permanent president is made. In addition to acting president of the University, Mr. Byrd will serve as executive officer of the State Board of Agriculture.

"Curly", as he is better known to alumni, has been associated with the institution for more than twenty-three years, beginning as instructor in English and History. He was later made consecutively, director of athletics, assistant to the president and vice-president. This action has established a feeling of confidence among the faculty members and will undoubtedly be received with much favor by alumni and students.

ready to be included in the list in the bulletin if everything was all right. He had constructed his private port according to information and directions previously furnished by Groves' department. Incidentally, there are about a score of such fields in Texas and the nearby Southwest plains country. Ranchers there are gradually abandoning the roadways as a method of getting about and are taking to the air in their own planes, says Groves.

So, if you are thinking of going to your vacation spot in your own 'plane, write or call John Groves. He will suggest your best possible route, based upon his best judgment and the latest information at his elbow. He will consult his big airways map, which divides the country into numbered sectors. He will send you these numbers, corresponding to sectional airways maps (printed by and purchased cheaply from the Coast and Geodetic Survey) of the country along your route, and inclose probably a copy of the latest Airway Bulletin and the Weekly Notice. You may then take off, traveling safely along radio directional beams, aerial highways, between almost any two important points in the United States—the sky is yours.—The Sunday (Washington) Star.

Grads Of Varied Interests Compose Alumni Board

TO BETTER ACQUAINT the Alumni with those who comprise the personnel of the Alumni Board, a brief biographical sketch is here given about each member. It was our intention to also show you what they look like, but as some pictures were not available for this issue, you will have to forego this pleasure until next month.

The representatives of the various colleges are elected for a term of three years with one third of the members being elected each year, with the exception of the members at large who are elected each year. The officers of the Alumni Association are also members of the Alumni Board and have been previously presented in the NEWS. The term of office for the president is one year and by precedent is automatically succeeded by the vice-president.

The two members at large, Miss Chesser and Mr. Van Doren, are both residents of Washington, D. C. Carolyn Chesser, hailing originally from Eastern Shore, is a graduate of the College of Education in the class of 1930. She is now director of the Home Economics Department of the Electrical Institute of Washington, D. C. While attending Maryland, Carolyn was active in the Student Grange and the Y.W.C.A., and a prominent member of Kappa Delta.

T. J. (Ted) Van Doren, a graduate of '25, in the College of Engineering, was very prominent in all campus activities, particularly in the Public Speaking Club of which he was president. He is a resident of Washington, D. C., where he is in the business of Another position is for a man with experience in domestic heating and power plants. Alumni, interested in the aforementioned possibilities, are requested to write the Alumni Office giving a resume of their experiences.

Dr. L. B. Broughton Heads New Maryland Set-Up

MARYLAND has a new athletic set-up, but it brings only one new man into the fold, Frank M. Dobson, field coach of the varsity football team. However, Jack Faber remains as head coach and in full charge of the team. This new set-up went into action with the start of football practice Labor Day.

Dr. L. B. Broughton, with the retirement of H. C. Byrd, acting president of the University, from his last connection with athletics as chairman of the Athletic Board, succeeds to the head of the sport's governing body. Doctor Broughton, who is head of the chemistry department, and who has been continuously at the University since his graduation in the class of 1908 as a classmate of Byrd's, has as his fellow members of the board, Prof. C. S. Richardson, who has been a member of the body for thirty-six years; Dr. C. O. Appleman, dean of the Graduate School; Maj. J. D. Patch, professor of

Veteran Medical Examiner Of Uncle Sam's Navy Retires

PASSING on the physical fitness of 40,000 men entering the United States Navy has been the experience of Lieut. W. G. Townsend, '88, M. D., during his twenty-three years of service. This, it is believed, is a record for examining surgeons of the Navy. Entering the service in 1912, Lieutenant Townsend has spent his entire time in Baltimore as a dry land sailor as he never had sea duty. Prior to entering the Navy, he examined applicants for the U. S. Marines. Following his graduation in 1888, he entered private practice, until in 1900 when he joined the medical unit of the old Fourth Regiment of the Maryland National Guard.

Dr. Townsend recalls having examined all of the first eight hundred men from Maryland to enter the Navy following the United States' entrance into the World War. Prior to his retirement, Lieutenant Townsend said, "I can say, without fear of contradiction, that we're (Navy) getting the cream of American men, educated, bright, energetic boys of the highest moral type."

Frederick Gets Widmyer

Earl Widmyer, Maryland's great sprinter and football back, is to take up a position as coach and teacher at Frederick High this fall. Earl leaves a great gap in Swede Epply's track team. He never was beaten in a dual meet in the 100 or 220 while at Maryland.

"Bozie" Berger, '32 Receives Award

"Bozie" Berger, '32, Cleveland second baseman and former Old Line Star athlete, was presented with a trophy on August 11, for being the most valuable player in the Southern Association last season, where he was a member of the New Orleans team.

While an undergraduate at the University, "Bozie" was All-American in basket-ball two years and All Southern baseball. He also won distinction in football. Old grads can probably remember when, in his first year, "Bozie" made two touchdowns against Yale, in 1929, to bring the score to 13 all.

Five of the ten best rifle shots at the Third Corp Area's R.O.T.C. summer camp are Maryland students. The ten leading riflemen will go to Camp Perry, Ohio, this summer to represent the Area in the national competition. Those from Maryland are N. O. Castle, Hugh Saum, Will Schneider, M. C. In addition to the rifle honors, that company, of which Maryland men were members, was the Honor Company of the camp. Several Maryland students won individual honors.

Alumnae Represented

Helen Beyerle Habich, a graduate of '27, in the College of Home Economics, has a list of activities too long to name, but among the more important are president of Women's Senior Honor Society, Class Secretary, Girls' Editor of the Reveille, "M" in rifle, consecutively, secretary, vice-president, and treasurer of W.A.A., and an active member of Sigma Delta, now Kappa Kappa Gamma. In addition, she won the Women's Citizenship medal. For several years, Helen was Home Economics Director for the Wills-Supplee Creamery Co., of Philadelphia. In 1930 she married Charles E. Habich, and they are now residing in Wenonah, N. J. The Alumni Office recently received an announcement that Judith Ann Habich arrived Aug. 5 last.

D. H. (Don) Adams, a graduate of '28 in the College of Agriculture, was a true campus leader. Although president of his class for three years, a member of Sigmu Nu, Omicron Delta Kappa, and the Interfraternity Council, he still had time to get his "M" in football and basket-ball. In 1930 Don married Eleanor Freeney, of the class of '29, and today is the proud father of a four-year-old daughter. At present he is president of the Adams, Burch Co., of Washington, dealers in hotel supplies.

Lawyer on Board

C. Walter Cole, better known to his classmates of 1920 as "King", held practically every possible honor while he attended Maryland, and then went on to Harvard University where he received his LL.B. "King" was president of his class, editor-in-chief of the Reveille, cadet-major of R. O. T. C., manager of baseball, and a member of Sigma Phi Sigma. Towson was "King's" home town, and it is there that he has established his law practice. In June, 1930, a baby daughter came to the Cole residence.

Various Sections Represented

P. W. (Pete) Chichester, graduate of '21 in Agricultural Education, is now business sales manager of the Dietrich Gambrill Co., in Frederick, Md. While he was attending "M. A. C.", his schooling was interrupted by the World War in which he served as a lieutenant. As a student, Pete was a member of Student Grange, New Mercer Society, and Sigma Nu. In 1926, Pete married Miss Lila Ward Koonce of Wilmington, N. C., and in 1931, Miss Lila Ward Chichester entered the family picture.

Frank S. Hoffecker, graduate of '14 in Engineering, is electrical engineer and general foreman for the Bethlehem Steel Co., at Sparrow's Point, Md. "Hoff" was one of Maryland's star athletes on the gridiron and diamond, but was foremost in the latter sport as pitcher. His son, Frank S. Jr., graduated from the University this year.

military science and tactics; and Prof. L. W. Ingham.

George F. Pollock will act as executive secretary of the Athletic Board without voting membership and will handle all correspondence.

Coaches Form Council

In addition to the Athletic Board, which will have full authority in all matters concerning athletics, there has been organized an Athletic Council to act in an advisory capacity. This council is composed of the coaches as follows: H. B. Shipley, head coach of basket-ball and baseball; Faber, head coach of football and lacrosse; Prof. Geary Eppley, head coach of track; Roy Mackert, professor of physical education; Capt. John W. Harmony, head coach of boxing; Leslie W. Bopst, head coach of tennis; and Pollock.

Each head coach will be responsible for his own sport, or sports, and will arrange his own schedule, or schedules, and have entire authority over his teams and their development, subject to approval of the Athletic Board.

All of the head coaches at Maryland are graduates of the institution, except Captain Harmony, who is a West Point product both as an officer and boxer.

Dobson is Experienced

Dobson, who for 20 years was athletic director and all-around coach at the University of Richmond, comes to Maryland with a brilliant record back of him. Before going to Richmond, he was freshman football mentor at Georgia Tech, assistant coach at Georgia, and athletic director and grid coach at Clemson College.

However, it was at Richmond that Dobson, in spite of a lack of material that measured up to that of a great many of his opponents, compiled such an enviable record. During his stay there, he won a total of 582 contests, lost 286 and tied 19 in the four sports he handled—football, baseball, basketball and track.

He was away from Richmond one year during his regime there, during the War, in 1918, when he served as athletic director at Camp Jackson and coached the football team at University of South Carolina.

Faber Sees Trio Of Tough Problems For Grid Squad

ALTHOUGH he has 16 letter men in his squad of 40, Jack Faber, head coach of the Maryland football team, sees three problems that must be solved if the Old Liners are to cope anyway successfully with their tough 10-game schedule.

Jack says that finding a quarterback to succeed Norwood Sothoron, a running guard to fill the shoes of John Simpson, and producing wing backs to take the places of Sothoron, Earl Widmyer, Dick Nelson and Joe Crecca is going to be a real task. Nowadays, he points out, you have to have quite a few ball toters to stand the gaff. And Roy Mackert says, "Amen," to Faber's words.

Maryland has eight letter winners among its backfield talent, but there is a scarcity of wing backs.

Line Regulars Return

All of the line regulars, except Simpson at left guard, are available, so that the big task here will be to find replacements.

It was noticeable last fall that the Old Liners always went better when Sothoron was calling the signals, and in addition to being a fine general, he was strong in all other lines.

Dick Nelson also was a fine passer and kicker, and his place will be hard to fill, especially from the heaving standpoint. Bill Guckeyson and Buddy Yaeger still leave the Terps with two proficient booters.

Dobson will fit admirably into the coaching staff, but it will take quite a spell for him to acquaint himself with the gridders, their traits and capabilities.

Burrough, '23, Returns To Private Law Practice

J. Edward Burrough, Jr., '23, has resigned his position as Assistant District Attorney for Washington, D. C., to return to private practice as a law partner of William Stanley, former assistant to the U. S. Attorney General. Their new law offices are located in the Tower Building.

During the eighteen months "Ed" was with the district government, he was assigned exclusively to criminal trial work in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia. As the duties were of such nature that he had little time for other things, "Ed" thought it best to return to private practice where he could broaden his diversified interests.

Dr. Truitt Praised In Agricultural Journal

IN the September issue of the Southern Planter, America's oldest agricultural journal, published in Richmond, Virginia, appeared the first of two articles by Dr. Reginald V. Truitt, '14, professor of aquiculture, at the University, on "Our Water Resources." The articles treat of conservation problems relating to seafoods, water-fowl and fur bearing shore animals.

Commenting editorially on Dr. Truitt's work in this field, the magazine paid the following tribute:

Fish, Furs and Water-Fowl

"Elsewhere in this issue appears a remarkable story written by a most extraordinary man, "Our Water Resources," by Dr. Reginald V. Truitt, University of Maryland's great authority on water life. Dr. Truitt lives the subject about which he writes. His whole life has been devoted to the study and conservation of the things he loves most, wild creatures that abound

Homecoming Crowd To Include Shriners

One of the biggest crowds ever to attend a Homecoming is expected at College Park, November 16, when Maryland encounters Washington and Lee on the gridiron. In addition to the usual large gathering of Alumni there will be members of both the Boumi and Almas Temples of Shriners from Baltimore and Washington respectively. The Shriners will bring with them their bands and drill groups to add to the day's entertainment.

The usual program for the returning grads will not be altered. Football is the big attraction and will begin at 10 A. M. with the freshmen playing the Washington and Lee yearlings. Headquarters for Alumni registration will be in the Ritchie Coliseum, where a luncheon will be served at 12 noon. Immediately following lunch the annual meeting of the "M" Club will be held in the Coliseum.

At 2:30 the annual struggle between

Terps Will Be Real Foes For Any Team They Meet

STARTING with the Virginia Tech game in the Baltimore Stadium, October 5, Maryland wades into the toughest football schedule ever faced by an Old Line combination. As someone has said, it is a "Rose Bowl schedule," and if the Terps should do what appears an impossibility and clean-up, they surely would deserve a bid to the Pasadena classic. However, nothing like that may be expected.

But the Terps—coached by the Jack Faber, Frank Dobson, Roy Mackert trio—are not going to be any pushovers for any team they meet, not even the Indiana outfit that is predicted will rank with the country's greats this year.

Maryland hasn't the material comparable with several of the teams it will meet this season, but it is a formidable bunch as the Old Liners go and may be counted upon to play a lot of clever and trick football, the kind that

A CORRECTION

An article in the September issue of the NEWS said that the Diamondback, student weekly publication, would be published semi-weekly this coming year. This the Diamondback intended to do, but some unforeseen circumstance caused the editor to abandon the plan, at least temporarily, and continue as in previous years with a weekly publication.

Alumni interested in current student happenings are urged to send in their subscriptions at once, so as not to miss those issues covering the football season.

ALUMNI CLUB NEWS FROM COSTA RICA

Recently the Alumni office received a letter from David R. Caldwell, '21, head of the Costa Rica Palm Nut Company in Central America. Caldwell has had some interesting experiences in Central America in addition to running the Palm Nut Company.

For the benefit of those who want to know just how it feels to hear about the old campus and Alumni happenings the following excerpts are taken from Caldwell's letters.

"Last fall I heard a Maryland football game from some broadcasting station and it made me feel like going back to the U. S. A.

"I have been receiving the ALUMNI NEWS regularly and hope it will be continued, incidently it goes over about half of the country among other college men, eager to hear about collegiate happenings.

"Another incident happened recently. I asked the Government for permission to do some laboratory work in the National College of Agriculture of Costa Rica. I was naturally referred to the director. I met a young fellow by the name of Rafael Chavarria who answered me in very good English. At once I asked him, 'Where did you learn your English?' His reply, 'At the University of Maryland.' A mutual friendship was the immediate result. I see him quite often now and I might say he is doing wonders with the College, and would do more if the Government could give him the necessary support. Chavarria is a member of the class of 1927.

"Best wishes to the Alumni and the best of luck to Maryland this fall.

"DAVID R. CALDWELL, '21."

Dingman Goes Ahead

Maryland's engineers are climbing the ladder of success. Recently Jas. E. Dingman, '21, was promoted from division plant engineer at New York to engineer of outside plant of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

Dingman, a native of Baltimore, graduated in mechanical engineering. Following graduation, he entered the employ of the Western Electric Company, and in 1922 transferred to the A. T. and T., as equipment attendant at Troy, N. Y. From Troy, he went to the general plant office in New York, where he remained until his appointment as district superintendent at New Haven, Conn. In 1933, he came back to New York as division plant engineer of Division 1.

in water and along shores. He knows the Chesapeake Bay country and has been captured by its romance.

"Born and reared on the Eastern Shore of Maryland, he learned the ways of the water and the men who work it at an early age. The curiosities of the oyster, the crab and the muskrat fascinated him. He made friends with the birds and understood the fishes. He accumulated oyster beds, and muskrat lands of his own and made a success of them.

"He entered the University of Maryland where his experience, great natural ability and the tenacity, that characterizes all watermen, made him an outstanding student and athlete, a worthy teacher and a renowned scientist. His life should be an inspiration to every farm youth who loves the out-of-doors and his message, a challenge to a water loving people.

"Dr. Truitt is still a young man but already he has made a name for himself among American men of science; endeared himself to those whose good fortune it has been to work at his side; won the confidence and admiration of the great mass of men who make their living out of the water; and made a most lasting contribution toward the protection of our water resources so that future Americans may know the excellence of seafoods."

Dr. Truitt divides his time between the University and the Chesapeake Marine Biological Laboratory, Solomons Island, Maryland, of which he is in charge.

Class of 1935 Makes Gift To Library

The Senior class of 1935 presented one hundred dollars to the Library for the purchase of books. With this money two valuable and interesting illustrated reference sets have been bought, The Pageant of America in fifteen volumes and Traill's Social England in six volumes, a set now difficult to secure. The books are placed in the Reading Room beneath a plate bearing the inscription "Presented by the Class of 1935."

OLD LINE ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

By W. H. ("Bill") HOTTEL

Series Of Tough Battles Is Faced By Terp Eleven

There is no gainsaying that Maryland's football team will face just one tough game after another during the remainder of the schedule.

Nine major games are regularly listed in two days less than that many weeks and it appears as if the Terps were sure to play Western Maryland in a post-season tilt to help the Westminster institution to raise funds for a much needed gymnasium.

Here is how Maryland's foes size-up:

V. P. I.—Tougher than last year when Maryland won, 14 to 9, at Norfolk.

North Carolina—Rated even with Duke as probable Southern Conference champ.

V. M. I.—Expects to stage impressive comeback.

Florida—Plans revenge for 1934 beating when Maryland invades Gainesville for Gators' homecoming. Will be big and fast.

Virginia—Has regained Martin and Male, star backs who were out last year, and hopes to go places.

Indiana—Will be one of the most powerful teams in the land and the Terps' toughest spot.

Washington and Lee—Out to retain Southern Conference crown and should offer game that will stir those who return for Maryland's homecoming.

Georgetown—Due to be 25 per cent stronger than eleven Terps beat last year, 6 to 0.

Syracuse — Always powerful, although outlook is that the Orange will not be quite up to the great 1934 outfit.

Western Maryland—Had much to do when it began work under new coach but sure to be formidable by December 7.

ancient rivals of the gridiron will "off with the whistle." Washington and Lee University and Maryland have fought many exciting gridiron battles together. Alumni who were present two years ago will remember the great game when Maryland, the under-dog, came from behind and defeated a championship W. and L. team.

Alumni are not to forget the real purpose of a Homecoming. Remember those classmates and schoolmates who were such bosom pals and good fellows during the good old campus days; well, they will be here to see you. Many will be disappointed if every Alumnus is not on hand.

The day is always concluded with a social gathering in the University Gym where supper, followed by a dance, affords further opportunities to renew old acquaintances and make new ones.

Mark it on your calendar, November 16, Homecoming.

has made them feared for many moons. Win, lose or draw, they should make it interesting for all their rivals.

Presents Veterans

It will be a senior-junior outfit mainly that will step on the field in the majority of cases, but before the season is over the line-up doubtless will be spiced with some sophs and some boys who were not counted on heavily during the early going.

But as matters stood when this was written, only one soph was running on the first eleven, Bill Wolfe at guard, and as he was backed up by another soph, Mike Surgent, this one job seemed likely permanently to go to a rookie.

Here is how the first two teams were lining up when this was "hot off the typewriter:"

First team: Vic Willis (193) and Louis Ennis (186), ends; John Birkland and Charlie Callahan (201), tackles; Ed Minion (194) and Bill Wolfe (186), guards; Bill Andorka (168), center; Coleman Headley (168) quarter; Bill Guckeyson (185) and George Sachs (186), halfbacks; John Gormley (183), fullback.

Second team: Blair Smith (170) and Bernie Buscher (183), ends; Al Farrell (202) and Carl Stalfort (192), tackles; Ed Fletcher (180) and Mike Surgent (190), guards; Frank DeArmey (195), center; Charlie Ellinger (168), quarter; Waverly Wheeler (163) and Jack Stonebraker (151), halfbacks; Ed Daly (183), fullback.

One Soph Gets Call

All of the first team, except the sophomore Wolfe, are letter men, and Buscher, Stalfort, Ellinger, Stonebraker and Daly of the second bunch also won their insignia last fall. Farrell was a 1933 letter man, and he and Fletcher just missed out last fall. All the others are sophs.

Bob Walton (166), a center; John McCarthy (187), an end, both sophs, and Buddy Yaeger, a letter man fullback, are three others likely to see much toil.

This places seven sophs among the 25 leading aspirants, and their total high school services as regulars was nine years. Wolfe played three years, DeArmey two, Surgent, Smith and McCarthy one each, and Wheeler and Walton were new to the game when they came to Maryland.

Fairly Formidable Rookie Squad Has Five Contests

Maryland's Freshman football team, which Al Heagy is fashioning out of a fairly sizable squad containing a fair amount of material, will play five games, the usual number, this fall.

As in the past, many of the aspirants are greatly inexperienced, and quite a few of them are new to the game entirely.

The entire list is made up of frosh teams from other universities and will offer a good test of the rookie Old Liners.

The schedule:

October 11—Virginia Frosh at College Park.
October 18—V.M.I. Frosh at Lexington.
November 8—Catholic U. Frosh at College Pk.
November 16—Washington and Lee Frosh at College Park. (morning)
November 22—Georgetown Frosh at Georgetown.

Margaret "Buddy" Cook, '31, married Wilbur L. Yearsley in Washington on June 29th. Mrs Yearsley is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi, and Mr. Yearsley, graduated from the University of Idaho.

Ruth Miles, '31, and Mildred Kettler, '31, were bridesmaids, and Elgar Jones, '31, was organist. All are members of Alpha Omicron Pi. An interesting point is that little four-year old Anne Howard, who was flower girl, is the daughter of Edith Burnside Howard, '29, also an A. O. Pi.

"CHES" ADAMS, '10, RETURNS TO MARYLAND

Twenty-five years hence a former graduate returns to the University again as a student. A. C. Adams, better known as "Ches," has a year's leave of absence from King College, Bristol, Tenn., where he is a professor, to take special graduate work in chemistry at the University.

"Ches" is a noted trackster of the early track days, also a letter man of the gridiron. It was in 1910 when "Ches" was lead-off man for one of the greatest relay teams Maryland ever had. The team won several races and lost none. The members of that great team were, Adams, Munson, Ducket and Morris, and this is what the Reveille said about them: "The latter two are new additions and will be performers of a high standard. Adams and Munson are old standbys; Adams is a twentieth century edition of a non-mythical Mercury and Munson is a red headed sod burner from Yankee land—a man it takes two people to see when in motion."

Gala Program Planned For Homecoming Day

IF PLANS are a criterion, Homecoming this year will be the most spectacular ever held at College Park. In addition to the many old grads who return for the gala day to renew again the good fellowship they enjoyed as students, there will be several thousand Shriners from Baltimore and Washington.

Homecoming Dance

The Homecoming will begin Friday evening with a pep rally, followed by a Homecoming Dance in the University gymnasium. Students and faculty will turn out for this pre-Homecoming warm-up.

Saturday starts off with football at 10 in the morning, when the Washington and Lee and Maryland yearlings tangle on the gridiron. At the same time the coeds will be staging

Old Liners And Generals Should Offer Grid Thrills

THE FOOTBALL STAGE appears to be set for one of the best and most interesting homecoming games that possibly could be arranged when Maryland plays host to Washington and Lee before the colorful gathering at College Park on November 16.

It will be the tenth game between the Terps and the Generals in a gridiron rivalry that was begun back in 1924 and continued annually ever since, except for 1929 when it was not possible to find a suitable date.

The games that have gone by the boards, with Washington and Lee leading 5 to 4, have been filled with thrills and fine play, and, with the exception of 1930 when the Generals had the worst day of that season, the tilts have been battled out from start to finish. That year Maryland won, 11 to 0.

This dam is a part of the Federal Government's extensive flood eontrol projeet on the Mississippi. The dam will eontain loeks, making it the largest navigable dam in the world. When eompleted it will eost $3,000,000. An interesting note about the roller gate ehains is that eaeh link in the chain weighs 500 pounds. Finch, a member of A. T. Baltimore and College Park Units To Have Get-Together

A general program of events designed to further weld the relationship between the College Park and Baltimore branehes of the University has been arranged under the direction of H. C. Byrd, Aeting President. The entire plan, whieh has been approved by the University Senate, includes social, athletie and academie events, expected to bring together for the first time under such conditions, members of the faculty, the student body and alumni of both units.

The first event was held in Baltimore on Thursday, Oetober 24, at the Emerson Hotel, as an informal reception. Aeting President Byrd and the University Senate were hosts for the oecasion. Many people prominent in the affairs of the State were present.

GREEKS PLEDGE 158

On Oetober 7, pledge day for fraternities, the Greeks were in quite a quandary. They issued 346 bids, and, by the time Dean Johnson's office elosed, only 90 had been aeeepted. There were 83 marked undeeided and 173 that were either rejeeted or unealled for. By Oetober 14, the pledges increased by 68, whieh made a total of 158.

Alpha Gamma Rho—twelve, Alpha Lambda Tau—one, Alpha Tau Omega—thirteen, Delta Sigma Phi—twenty-eight, Kappa Alpha—twenty-six, Lambda Chi Alpha—twelve, Phi Alpha—ten, Phi Delta Theta—eight, Phi Sigma Kappa—twenty, Sigma Alpha Mu—eight, Sigma Nu—eleven, Sigma Phi Sigma—four, Tau Epsilon Phi—twelve, Theta Chi—twenty-three.

Even though this made a grand increase of one over the total of last year, the Greeks unanimously condemned the two-week rush period, because they felt that with the increased enrollment of this year, the total should have been higher.

J. H. MeCarthy, Interfraternity Council President, stated that the present two weeks rush system was responsible for the many rejeetions and undeeideds. He said, "I feel that the best interests of both freshmen and the fraternities will be earried out if a deferred plan of rushing be followed. That is, a rushing period beginning some time during the second semester."

Varsity Eleven Does Well In Its First Four Contests

WITH three wins in the first four games, the Varsity football team did as well as expected.

In these games, St. John's was beaten, 39 to 6; Virginia Tech, 7 to 0, and V. M. I., 6 to 0, while a real drubbing, 33 to 0, was taken from North Carolina's team that may land in the Rose Bowl.

Maryland, off to a bad start in the Carolina game, with the Tarheels scoring three times in the first period, played on even terms the rest of the way and doubtless would have kept the count at 20 to 0 but for two blocked kicks.

North Carolina Is Good

ACTUALLY, North Carolina, one of the best teams ever developed in the South, was fully two touchdowns better than the Old Liners at their best.

St. John's is not up to snuff this year and did not offer any real opposition; Maryland outplayed Virginia Tech about three times as badly as the score indicates, while the V. M. I. game was pretty much of a stand-off. The Old Liners marched 80 yards in the third period for the winning score.

However, the ruling ineligible of Bill Andorka, regular center, and Al Farrell, reserve tackle, the day before the game threw the Old Liners somewhat off their stride for the tilt with V. M. I. on foreign soil.

Doing Some Traveling

WHEN this was written, Maryland was preparing for a jaunt to play the University of Florida in the Gators' Homecoming Day celebration on Oct. 26, and were to meet Virginia in Charlottsville Nov. 2 and Indiana in Baltimore Nov. 9, before taking on Washington and Lee in the big day at College Park, Nov. 16.

Last year's 16 letter men with the sophs: Mike Surgent and Bill Wolfe, guards, Frank DeArmey, center, and Blair Smith, end, are playing most of Maryland's football.

Maryland won from Florida: 20-6, then took the Virginia Cavaliers 14-7, the next Saturday.

Evans Practicing Law

Out in Rockville, Montgomery County, Maryland, we find W. H. "Moon" Evans, '32, one of Maryland's former athletes, practicing law. "Moon," a member of K. A., ranks among the greatest athletes ever to wear the black and gold. He was a three letter man, starring in football, basket-ball, and lacrosse, and was an All-American in the latter. The best to you, "Moon."

¶ To prevent depression we must curb prosperity, but the public would not stand for that.

Good Grid Yearlings Scarce; Contest Homecoming Day

MARYLAND'S freshman grid team, containing a half dozen or less real varsity prospects, dropped its first two games of the season, to Virginia, 6 to 2, and to V. M. I., 39 to 7.

However, the young Terps are not as weak as the V. M. I. score would indicate. Bud Meade, 190-pound ace back, has been kept out of both games by a broken finger.

Al Heagy, yearling coach, also is paying more attention to teaching them the fundamentals than to winning.

They will play the young Generals of Washington and Lee at 10 o'clock on Homecoming Day.

Roy Mackert, line coach, and Al Heagy, frosh mentor, do Maryland's grid scouting.

* * * * *

Harold W. Finch, '27, is now with the U. S. Engineers Office of the War Department. He is helping to build the dams on the Mississippi River and is located in St. Louis, Mo. While attending Maryland, Harold was a member of Delta Psi Omega, now Alpha Tau Omega, and was also a track star.

One contest between the teams that always will be recalled when the series is mentioned is that of 1925 which the Terps apparently had in the bag, but lost in the last minute, 7 to 3. With his team leading, 3 to 0, in that memorable affray and with the ball advancing rapidly toward the enemy's goal with less than two minutes to play, the Terp quarterback decided to hurry matters by tossing a pass.

He did and the ball landed directly in the arms of the Generals' most flashy runner and when he finally was halted he was one yard from the goal. The ball was taken over just before the whistle blew and the game that had been "won" was quickly lost.

Other bit of history, though, that the Terps like to recall are the 6 to 0 victory of 1928 when "Snitz" Snyder toted the ball 60 yards for a score in less than a dozen plays, and in 1933 when they registered a 33 to 13 triumph after going into the battle rank outsiders.

Generals Go To Front

But Washington and Lee has had the last laugh. That was last year when the Generals kept the Terps from the Southern Conference title and grabbed the championship for themselves by gaining a 7 to 0 edge at Lexington.

So this year the Terps will be battling to get on even terms in a series that has an unusual angle, in the fact that Washington and Lee won four straight and then Maryland took four in a row to deadlock the issue.

Here is how the past games have resulted:

1924—Maryland, 7; W. and L., 19.
1925—Maryland, 3; W. and L., 7.
1926—Maryland, 0; W. and L., 3.
1927—Maryland, 6; W. and L., 13.
1928—Maryland, 6; W. and L., 0.
1930—Maryland, 41; W. and L., 7.
1931—Maryland, 13; W. and L., 7.
1932—Maryland, 6; W. and L., 0.
1933—Maryland, 33; W. and L., 13.
1934—Maryland, 0; W. and L., 7.

Many Old Graduates Return For Reunion

DESPITE the inclement weather, many old grads returned to the campus for Homecoming. The program began Friday evening with the annual Homecoming dance in the University Gym. More alumni were on hand than ever before, and especially more from the later classes.

Saturday morning the "alums," enjoying the fellowship of some of their former classmates, watched the Freshmen football game with Washington and Lee, which resulted in a 6—0 score in favor of the young Generals, the girls' hockey tournament, and an intramural soccer game. Immed ately after the barbeque lunch, the annual "M" Club meeting and elections were held.

Attention Alumni

As the year 1935 is rapidly drawing to a close, let us start in time to make our new year's resolutions. There is one in particular every alumnus should make: "I will contribute something toward the support of my Alumni Association in 1936."

Every former student of the University is automatically a member of the Alumni Association. In order that the Association may function and render some service to the University of Maryland and its graduates, it is very necessary that some financial help be given to keep the Association from becoming dormant and useless. At the present time many are riding, but only a few are paying the freight. Others would gladly send in their $2.00 annual contribution, but procrastination so often interferes. In order to overcome this there is enclosed a busi-

University Alumni Plan Holding Joint Banquet

CONCERTED efforts are being made to bring into closer unity the activities of the Alumni Association of the various departments of the University. For this purpose, a well-attended meeting of presidents and secretaries was held in Baltimore, December 6, at the Chesapeake Club.

Definite plans were made to hold a joint Alumni banquet of all University Alumni organizations in Baltimore, sometime during February. There will be one address by a nationally known speaker. Those present at the meeting favored dancing after the banquet.

Omicron Delta Kappa Holds Tapping Ceremonies

Senator George L. Radcliffe, a graduate of the University Law School in '03, and Captain John W. Harmony, were made members of O. D. K., national honorary leadership fraternity, at tapping ceremonies held recently.

Nine students were also awarded the coveted honor: Coleman Headley, of College Park; Andrew Beveridge, of Berwyn; William Guckeyson, of Chevy Chase; Melvin Lankford, Theodore Erbe and Jerome Sach, of Baltimore; Alton Rabbitt, Gardner Brooks and Richard Hunt, of Washington.

CORY, '09, ATTENDS HISTORICAL MEETING

Ernest N. Cory attended a meeting of the ancient South River Club, which is claimed to be the oldest social organization in the United States, as a guest of Benjamin Watkins, Jr., a graduate of the class of '94. This club, which is limited to twenty-five members whose forebears were from Anne Arundel County, is probably unique. With little deviation they have maintained the sequence and formalities of their meetings through all these years. The roster of the club carries many names famous in the history of Maryland, and the minute book has been used continuously from 1742. The minutes, prior to that time, were burned. Benjamin Watkins, Jr., and his father, now 95 years of age, are members of the club, and presumably Benjamin III, who graduated in '25, will be elected to the club when his grandfather passes on. Only the host for the day is allowed to have any guests and on September 19th, Benjamin, Jr., honored Fitzhugh Murray of Mayo, Stanley E. Day, '13, Benjamin Watkins, III, '25, and Ernest M. Cory.

Many Old Grads Return For Reunion

Lewis W. "Knocky" Thomas, '28, received the presidency.

In addition to the many old graduates who returned to cheer the football team, there were several thousand Shriners from the Almas and Boumi Temples, of Washington and Baltimore respectively, on hand for the joint ceremonial held that night in the Coliseum. Their brilliantly uniformed bands and drill units added much color to the cloudy, cold day. As many probably know, the game ended in a tie, 0—0.

Following the game all fraternity and sorority houses entertained their alumni with supper and dancing. Each had an exceptionally large crowd to return.

It was probably the largest Homecoming ever held in College Park.

A holiday was declared in the Baltimore Schools and more than five hundred students journeyed to College Park to help swell the student body cheering section.

Board Holds Fall Meeting

Recently the Alumni Board held its fall meeting in Baltimore with Dr. T. B. Symons, '02, President, presiding. Members of the Board present were: C. Walter Cole, '21; P. W. Chichester, '21; T. J. Van Doren, '25, and G. F. Pollock. Guests of the Board were J. Hanson Mitchell, '98, former president of the Association; Lt. Col. L. M. Sylvester, '11, former president of the "M" Club, and Lewis W. Thomas, '28, President of the "M" Club.

One of the most important matters discussed was the Alumni membership subscriptions. The treasurer's report indicated that less than 10% of the Alumni on the mailing list have contributed financially toward the association's current expenses. The Board, therefore, encounters this situation; unless more contributions are received the Association's program, which includes the publishing of the ALUMNI NEWS, will be greatly curtailed.

Group meetings, grand reunions, and next spring class organizations were among other subjects to receive serious discussions.

The Board favored the holding of a joint Alumni Banquet for the entire University as proposed by the presidents of the various associations. Those present then attended the dinner and meeting of Board members representing the other organizations.

New Group Active

Don Keiffer, '28, president of the New York Alumni Group, brought encouraging news of the group's activity. Don and his committees really have things hopping in New York. A luncheon club has been started, and many Old Liners gather one day each week to swap yarns, at the Ship's Galley on Liberty Place.

The fall meeting of the club was held November 23, at the Lexington Hotel, where dinner and a dance to the music of Ozzie Nelson was the program of the evening.

They are planning another rally when the Maryland boxing team goes to West Point to exchange punches with the Army on February 22. Every alumnus in the vicinity should make a special effort to be present for this meeting and give Don his address for notices of future meetings.

OLD LINE ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

By W. H. ("Bill") HOTTEL

Varsity Grid Team Enjoys Highly Successful Season

MARYLAND'S FOOTBALL TEAM, playing a snappy and interesting game from start to finish, had one of its most gratifying seasons. The Terps won seven games, tied two and lost two. And one of its losses and one of its ties would have been triumphs except for undeniable bad "breaks" in officiating.

However, Jack Faber, head coach; Frank Dobson, field coach, and Roy Mackert, line coach, have a right to be proud of their charges—which they are—and those connected with the school and many from the outside have added bits of praise.

Two Prized Triumphs

Probably the most prized victories came over Georgetown and Western Maryland, neighboring rivals. The latter was played in a game that was staged to help raise funds for a Western Maryland field house, but as the contest shaped up the State title and the Mayor Jackson trophy were at stake. Now the Terps have both in their possession.

It was fine team play, engendered by a fine spirit within the squad, that spelt such fine success for the Terp gridders, but there were some notable individual feats that stood out, especially those of Bill Guckeyson, rated among the great backs of the nation.

Bill stepped 50 and 90 yards for touchdowns against Georgetown, and his kicking played a vital part in all of the games, notably in the Florida tilt in which he made three boots that totalled over 210 yards.

He was an All-Southern Conference selection and picked by every rival Maryland faced as the best back they played against all year, and Indiana opposed among others, Jay Berwanger of Chicago, on practically every All-America team.

Maryland will lose some of its best players by graduation, especially in the line, and it will be rebuilding the forward wall that will offer the big problem next fall.

Those to go include Louis Ennis and Bernie Buscher, ends; Chas. Callahan and Carl Stalfort, tackles, and Ed Minton, guard, all regulars, and Bill Garrott, guard; Tom McLaughlin, tackle, and Geo. Sachs and Chas. Yeager, backs, from among the reserves.

Wenner, '27, Heads Pittsburgh Group

Sox Tremble reports splendid alumni group meetings are being held in Pittsburgh with between twenty and thirty present. This group meets the second Thursday in every month.

The officers now in charge are: Pres., Minor Wenner, '27; Vice-Pres., Ernest (Sox) Trimble, '13; Sec.-Treas., Dr. A. A. Krieger.

Difficult Problems Faced In Basket-ball And Boxing

WITH their ranks depleted for one reason or another, Capt. Jack Harmony, coach of the Maryland boxing team, and Burton Shipley, tutor of the Old Line basketers, have big tasks before them to turn out successful combinations.

Harmony's ring charges will appear in seven dual meets, while Shipley's tossers are scheduled for 22 games. Both, in addition, will take part in Southern Conference championship tournaments.

Tom Birmingham, 125; Walter Webb, 145; Ivan Nedomatsky, the 1935 lightweight sensation who has outgrown that class, 145 or 155; Mike Lombardo, 155 or 165; Jack Herbsleb, 165; Jack Gormley, 175, and John Birkland and Carl Stalfort, heavies, are the only experienced boxers in school, and the last-named is not a certain aspirant. Birmingham, Webb, Nedomatsky, Lombardo and Gormley are letter men.

Both Squads Hard Hit

Jim Young, 115-pounder, did not return, and Bill Waller, 125, has a leg injury that has shelved him. Lyman McAboy and Stew McCaw, 155 and 165 pound aces, were lost by graduation.

Shipley has been hard hit. Bill Guckeyson will forsake basket-ball; Vic Willis, big center, may not play; track will claim Coleman Headley, and Bill Andorka also is out on the football ineligibility ruling. All are clever players.

This leaves Al Waters, Bernie Buscher, Charlie Keller and Ed Daly, letter men, and Jack Stonebraker, who came out the latter part of last season, and Fred Thomas, Waverly Wheeler, Bill Bryant and John McCarthy from last year's freshmen, to carry the burden of a tough schedule.

Only Few Freshmen of Note Will Go Up To Varsity Squad

Maryland's freshman team, failing to win any of its five games during the season, will, however, provide a few good prospects for the Varsity next fall.

Jim Meade, from Tome, and Charlie Weidinger, from McDonogh, proved to be backs of ability, and, while there was a dearth of linemen, two or three at least, should be developed.

Twenty-eight aspirants were on the squad at the close of the campaign. Al Heagy did a fine job of coaching despite the lack of success.

ALL-UNIVERSITY NIGHT PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 7.30 P. M.

Progress of The University Has Increased Attention

MANY ALUMNI are watching with increasing interest the progress of the University; and it is well that they know some of the more important events that have taken place so far this year.

There have been changes in the Board of Regents, with the resignation of two members, George M. Shriver, and John M. Dennis, and the appointment of new ones to their places. Judge W. Calvin Chesnut of Baltimore and Mr. H. H. Nuttle of Denton, Maryland, have been added.

Unit System

Numerous additions have been made in the faculty personnel which you have read of in the previous issue. Emphasis has been placed, in this respect, on the English, Modern Languages, Sociology and Philosophy departments. Also new, is the unit system organized in the College of Arts and Sciences, to cut down scholastic mortalities in the lower classes. Charley White, '23, is in charge of this lower unit. By this system each student is given the benefit of a faculty supervisor and the whole system is creating such favorable comment among students and faculty that it has been requested by members of the other colleges. The Arts and Sciences College is now in its new building, the largest on the campus.

Building remodeling has caused a delightful transformation both in Baltimore and College Park. In Baltimore, the old hospital is being revamped into a well equipped Dispensary. At College Park the new Arts and Science Building, the girls' dormitory, as well as the remodeling of the Dairy Building, stand out as high lights in improvements.

Dairy Barns To Be Moved

Of greatest interest, though, to us all, are the plans now in progress to remove the old dairy barns and build new ones north of the campus near Paint Branch.

Work is about to begin on the $350,000 Bureau of Mines Laboratory, which will be the best of its kind in this

Senator Tydings Marries

The Honorable Millard E. Tydings, '10, U. S. Senator from Maryland, deserted bachelorhood and married Mrs. Eleanor Davies Cheesborough on December 27, last, at the home of the bride's parents in Washington, D. C.

Following the ceremonies the newlyweds embarked for a honeymoon trip to New Orleans by boat, visiting en route many balmy seaports.

Mrs. Tydings is a socially prominent woman in the nation's capital. Senator Tydings, former president of the Alumni Association, joins the married men's rank of his class, leaving his classmate, J. P. Grason, as the only surviving member of the bachelor club.

Last fall Senator Tydings purchased Col. Ritchie's former estate, the Oakington, in Balnk Manor in Baltimore County for the future home of the Tydings.

Football Movies

Moving pictures have been taken of practically all football games this fall.

Here is an attraction for alumni get-togethers to follow the Terrapins in action on the gridiron. The brilliant 90-yard run of "Bill" Guckeyson in the Georgetown game, the touchdown plays against Florida, and many other sensational plays are clearly shown.

The alumni secretary will gladly make arrangements to have these pictures shown before any alumni gathering upon request.

Great "Show" is Planned By Various Organizations

FACULTY, students and alumni are now making plans to be on hand in force at one of the big annual affairs at College Park—ALL-UNIVERSITY NIGHT — on Saturday, February 15.

It is an occasion when the many departments of the University combine to put on a "show" typical of the extra-curricular activities.

The various departments, athletic, physical, education, musical, military, and others put great effort into the event and that it is appreciated has been shown by the flow to Ritchie Coliseum the night it is held. Last year, fully 5,000 persons enjoyed every minute of the occasion.

An extra edition of the Diamondback that night carries the program and tells the folks what it is all about.

Athletic events furnish the opening and finish, the evening starting with a basket-ball game with Catholic University and winding up with a boxing match with V. M. I., one of Maryland's warmest Southern Conference rivals and friends.

It is an occasion that an alumnus cannot well afford to miss.

Plans for the joint Alumni Banquet of the Baltimore and College Park Schools have been changed to some extent. Instead of holding the banquet on February 13, as was previously stated, it will be held Thursday, February 27, at 7:30 P. M. at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore.

Dr. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, is expected to make the address. Musical entertainment and dancing will follow the banquet.

Alumni Grand Reunion
Saturday, May 2, 1936
College Park, Md.

By a unanimous vote at the annual meeting of the Alumni Association last year, it was decided to make this year, 1936, a Grand Reunion Year. It was also the desire of the Association that a similar program to the one last year be held, which included the annual athletic Field Day events.

The program actually begins Friday morning with the annual R. O. T. C. competitive drill, followed in the afternoon by the coeds' May Day program. In the evening, fraternities and sororities hold their annual Alumni meetings. On Saturday morning the Association convenes for the annual meeting, followed by a buffet luncheon and then a three ring circus of baseball, track, tennis, and lacrosse. To top off the day, an Alumni supper dance is held in the gymnasium.

There will probably be a few changes in this program, but every alumnus should mark it on his calendar, "I will see my old classmates at College Park for a Grand Reunion."

Washington Alumni Form Luncheon Club

Starting with a nuclei of about ten or twelve, the club has grown rapidly in two meetings to forty-five members. Temporary officers have been chosen as follows: Fred B. Linton, President, William Press, Vice-President, and C. V. "Ditty" Koons, Secretary-Treasurer. Much of the impetus toward starting the club came from Joseph Deckman, '30, former All-American lacrosse player and Arley Unger, '30, student leader. Both are engaged in newspaper work.

The purpose of the club is to arouse Old Line spirit among the alumni. Every male alumnus is urged to attend. The following membership of the club is:

Nomination of Officers

Often the question has been asked "How are nominations made for officers of the Alumni Association?"

The Constitution provides that a nominating committee be appointed by the Alumni Board to make nominations for the various offices. This committee is chosen, giving as wide a representation as possible, and are asked to nominate alumni interested in the welfare of the association, and at the same time keeping in mind class and geographic location.

It is customary for the vice president to automatically become president. The secretary-treasurer is usually filled by someone at the University, who publishes the ALUMNI NEWS and attends to the routine office work.

This year there are four new members to be elected to the Alumni Board, a representative of the Colleges of Engineering and Arts and Science, and two members-at-large. Any suggestions from alumni will be appreciated by the Board as well as the nominating committee.

Varsity Basket-Ball Team Is Displaying Real Power

THE Old Line varsity basket-ball team is stepping along in good style, and bids fair to be a real contender for Southern Conference honors.

The team lost only one of its five games, a 27 to 30 affair to a real Washington and Lee outfit, and scored revenge triumphs over Navy, 32 to 20, and Richmond U., 28 to 24, both of which had handed the Terps wallopings last season.

With Vic Willis, much improved and leading the team in scoring; Bernie Buscher, heavier and better; Charlie Keller and Al Waters, both going strong, and Fred Thomas, Waverly Wheeler, John McCarthy and Bill Bryant, sophs and Ben Allen, from the Pharmacy School, in the supporting cast, the outfit is showing aggressiveness and teamplay of a high caliber.

Allen, who is available only the nights of games, would make a strong bid for a regular berth were he able to join the squad in practice.

Terp Boxers Are Stirred By Conditions of Defeat

MARYLAND'S boxing season started out in lamentable fashion, not so much that the team lost to Catholic U., 3½ to 4½, but because of conditions highly unsatisfactory to the Old Liners that surrounded the affair. The matches were held in the Catholic U. gym in Washington.

Maryland did not agree with the decision that gave Walter Webb only a draw in the 145-pound class, was absolutely in disagreement with the one that handed defeat to Ivan Nedomatsky in the 155-pound division, and was dumbfounded at a kayo delivered John Gormley, light-heavy, when he was on his knees from a near spill on the slippery canvas. It was felt that both Webb and Nedomatsky won handily and that Gormley should have been declared a victor on a foul.

Ed Shegogue, 115, fighting his first bout, won by a decision; Tom Birmingham, 125, scored a kayo; Morty Schwartz, 135, lost a decision; Mike Lombardo, 165, got a forfeit, and John Birkland, heavyweight, took the count. Nedomatsky, undefeated at 135 pounds last year, fought two notches above that weight, although he scaled only 152.

Captain Jack Harmony, coach of the Terps, however, may be depended upon to bring his team through the season in creditable fashion despite the regretable inaugural.

Two New Gridiron Rivals On Terps' Card For 1936

With two new foes on the list, Maryland again will play eleven football games next fall, finishing with a trip to Jackson, Miss., to meet Mississippi State on December 5.

Richmond University joins with Mississippi State in being newcomers to the schedule, with Indiana and Western Maryland, the latter an added starter in 1935, being the ones to go off the list. However, Western Maryland doubtless will be back on the card in 1937, the schedule for which has been finished, with the exception of adjustments in dates.

St. John's, Virginia, Virginia Military Institute and Georgetown comprise the home games at College Park, while Washington and Lee will be met on Thanksgiving Day in Baltimore to start a holiday series.

Maryland faces a difficult task in rebuilding a line for 1936, but will have an array of fine backs, led by Bill Guckeyson.

The Schedule

September 26—St. John's, at College Park.
October 3—Virginia Poly, at Roanoke or Blacksburg.
October 10—North Carolina, at Chapel Hill.
October 17—Virginia, at College Park.
October 24—Syracuse, at Syracuse.
October 31—Florida, at Tampa.
November 7—Richmond, at Richmond.

November 21—Georgetown, at College Park.
November 26—Washington and Lee, at Baltimore.
December 5—Mississippi State, at Jackson, Mississippi.

All were very much pleased with the picture and expressed their desire that another meeting be held so pictures of some of the other games could be seen.

Definite Grid Plans Await; Dobson Now Drilling Squad

By W. H. HOTTEL

FRANK DOBSON, who served as field coach of the Terp footballers last fall, and associated with Jack Faber, head mentor, and Roy Mackert, line tutor, helped bring the team through a successful season of seven wins, two defeats and two ties, is handling the gridmen in spring practice.

This special arrangement was made by Dr. L. B. Broughton, chairman of the athletic board, who stated that it seemed assured that Dobson would be added permanently to the staff next fall. Definite details will not be settled for some time, as a number of adjustments are necessary.

No One To Be Slighted

However, Faber, whose time now is occupied as head coach of lacrosse, Mackert and Al Heagy, frosh coach, will continue to be connected with football. In fact, Faber, who will have a deciding voice in whatever is done,

OUR PRESIDENT

Stories of a mythical character usually start by saying, "Once upon a time," but this is not a mythical story. It is a true one about Harry Clifton Byrd, graduate and president of the University; one who is best known by his old time friends and alumni who have fought for him and rubbed shoulder to shoulder in many a battle, as just plain "Curley."

He is a native of the Eastern Shore, born and raised in Crisfield. He began his bound to fame 30 years ago, by playing football for his Alma Mater in a ten-cent pair of stockings, and today heads the same University.

A few years after graduation in 1908 with honors, he returned to his Alma Mater as professor of English and coach of athletics. His rise is romantic as only few men of American history have risen from the coach's bench to the president's chair of a University.

Byrd has always been an ardent supporter of clean sportsmanship on and off the field. Because of this, coupled with his great amount of energy, ambition and enthusiasm, he won such imposing positions a director of athletics, assistant to the presi-

Impressive Record Wins Administrative Position

FOLLOWING several months of deliberation, the Board of Regents, on February 21, officially appointed Harry Clifton Byrd of the class of 1908 as president of the University. Mr. Byrd has been acting president since the resignation of Dr. R. A. Pearson in July, 1935, during which time some 50 candidates were considered for the position.

Twenty-Three Years

Mr. Byrd has been associated with the University in an official capacity for more than 23 years. He has actually grown up with the University, for it was he who led a successful campaign in 1920 for the organization of a great state university.

In the years he has served the school, recognition of his administrative ability has steadily increased. Beginning as an English instructor, later director of athletics, then assistant to the president, vice-president, and acting president, his accomplishments spoke for him.

Many Changes Perfected

During his term as acting president, Mr. Byrd perfected many constructive changes in the educational system. The departments of English, Modern Languages, Sociology and Philosophy received many new and capable instructors. A new system in the Arts and Science College was organized for the purpose of giving the students better supervision and a closer contact with faculty members.

Additional appropriations have been received from the federal government for various improvements needed in the University. The Bureau of Mines broke ground and construction started.

Many laudatory comments have come from various sections of the State, acclaiming Mr. Byrd as a competent administrator.

Leadership is the background of Fred B. Linton, '29, president of the Terrapin Luncheon Club of Washington. The first and third Tuesdays in each month the Club meets at the Harrington Hotel at 12:15 noon. It is the place for alumni to gather and swap yarns. You are bound to see someone you know. Then too, Charley Bishop, '30, is arranging some interesting programs, including prominent alumni speakers. Do not miss it. Tuesdays at 12:15.

Former Dean And Graduate Received National Recognition

"Plant miracles have been discovered by Dr. Percy W. Zimmerman, former dean of the College of Agriculture at the University of Maryland, and Dr. Albert E. Hitchcock, a former graduate student in the same department. Their discoveries demonstrate wierd, almost gruesome effect produced when stems of growing plants are treated with one of 16 or more chemicals discovered," says Time.

These substances, some of which are plant "hormones," may be placed in the soil, or applied directly to the stem of the plant. The first result is rapid rocketing growth, followed by the appearance of roots at the site of application.

"Truly amazing is the only clear way to typify the discoveries!!!" commented Science Service.

Last December, to the amazement of both Zimmerman and Hitchcock, the American Association for the Advancement of Science rewarded their research with a cash prize of $1,000.

Commencement To Be June 6, At College Park

By a large majority, the University Senate voted that all future commencements of the institution shall be held in College Park.

The action of the Senate serves to settle a bitterly contested question which has caused heated argument between students and faculty of both branches of the University. Prior to the commencement last year, the concensus of opinions was against joint commencement. The new program, installed last year, which provided for commencement in the morning, followed by a general get-together luncheon on the campus, received such favorable comment as to cause the recent action of the Senate. Last year's program will be duplicated this year.

Basket-Ball Season Offers Thrills And Develops Stars

IT was an exhilirating season that Head Coach Burton Shipley, aided by Jack Faber, and the capable basket-ball squad provided for the Terp fans and others during the recent campaign.

Winning 13 out of 18 games during the regular schedule and breaking even in two hot Conference tourney tilts, the team compiled an enviable record besides parading some clever individual talent.

Maryland, the experts agreed, played the finest game the Conference tourney ever has seen in beating Duke in the opening round, 47 to 35, and also gave a fine exhibition in losing to Washington and Lee in the semi-final the next night, 38 to 32. A little better luck on their shots might have given the Terps the edge on the Generals.

Buscher Highly Rated

Bernie Buscher was placed on the Conference first team at forward, as well as on all of the picked teams in the Terps' home section, while Vic Willis was on the Conference second quint at center and on other all-star out-fits. In fact, Paul Menton of the Evening Sun, and others thought Willis should have been in the pivot job on the first Conference five.

Al Waters and Waverly Wheeler, forwards; Charlie Keller and Fred Thomas, the regular guards, and John McCarthy, Bill Bryant and Ben Allen, who hails from the Pharmacy School in Baltimore, were the others on the squad. Buscher and Willis, each of whom scored 179 points in the regular season, have completed their careers.

Notable Triumphs

Notable triumphs for the season were scored over Navy, Georgetown, Richmond University, Duke in the regular schedule as well as in the tourney, Virginia and all State foes that were met—Washington twice, St. John's, Hopkins and Baltimore University. In fact, the Terps established undoubted supremacy in the State.

The freshman team, tutored by Al Heagy, took a leaf out of the varsity book and turned in 13 wins in 15 starts. It lost both its games to the Georgetown frosh, the first by two points and the other in overtime.

Relay Team Will Defend

Maryland will strive to defend its American medley relay championship it won last year, in the Penn Carnival in Philadelphia next month. Coleman Headley, who ran anchor on the winning four last April, is the only runner left, but Coach Geary Eppley thinks he has the makings of another good combination.

BERNIE BUSCHER

Named for all-Southern Conference team as forward and picked on all other star quints selected in his section.

Boxing Squad Much Better Than Cold Figures Indicate

THE BOXING TEAM, with Capt. Jack Harmony coaching for his farewell season, did not do as well in the won column as in his previous years but he and the team pleased everyone in the know.

Taking only two out of seven meets does not appear so well on the surface but "officiating breaks," that will not be gone into here, may truthfully be charged with costing victory in at least three of the meets, two that were dropped by 4½ to 3½ and another by 5 to 3.

One champion, Ivan Nedomatsky, in the 145-pound class, and a runner-up, John Gormley, light-heavy, gained laurels in the Conference meet. Nedomatsky had won the Conference title the year before in the 135-pound division.

Other Dependables

Charlie Gebhardt and Ed Shegouge, 115; Tom Birmingham and Bob Slye, 125; Spike Webb, 135 and 145; Morty Schwartz, 135; Nedomatsky, who fought at 155 as well as 145; Mike Lombardo, 155 and 165; Blair Smith, 165 and 175, and Gormley, who also battled as a heavy, were the mainstays. Only Webb will be graduated.

Harmony goes to the Staff School at Leavenworth, Kansas, on leaving Maryland, after four years as a highly successful and popular coach and officer. If Maryland can come close to filling his shoes it will be satisfied.

Lyman McAboy, coach of the freshman team, also produced some material that should be a big help to the varsity next season. His charges won two meets and tied another 4-all.

Trackmen Pick Up Laurels During Campaign On Boards

SWEDE EPPLEY'S TRACKMEN showed in the indoor season a sample of what may be expected of them outdoors when a few of the athletes did some fine work.

The Terps wound up the indoor campaign by scoring 20½ points for third place in the Conference meet in which Warren Evans set a record of 52.4 for the quarter and the relay team of Bob Archer, Bill Thies, Frank Cronin and Evans created a new mark of 3:31.8 for the mile. The track in the Tin Can at North Carolina University where the meet was held is unbanked.

Earlier in the year the relay team of Archer, Cronin, Evans and Coleman Headley stepped ahead of Amherst, Yale and Princeton in the Millrose games at Madison Square Garden in New York in the fast time of 3:27.2.

Headley Runs Well

Headley also ran second to Chuck Hornbostel in the Halpin half mile in the New York A. C. games and was just beaten out by Harry Williamson of North Carolina in the Conference meet. Headley was timed in 1:58.1 by Eppley. Cronin also pole vaulted 11 feet 10 inches to tie for second place. He once cleared 12 feet 2 inches but evidently brushed the bar on his way down as it fell after he had landed.

Joe Ryan also gave promise of producing in the sprints by running second in the Conference 60-yard dash.

Evans, who is running better than ever before, and Archer wound up their careers with the indoor season and their loss will be keenly felt.

Phyllis was a member of Alpha Omicron Pi, and Charley, Sigma Nu.

More Than 140 Candidates Are Striving For Positions On Four Varsity Teams And In Spring Football Drills

MORE than 140 aspirants for the four spring sports teams—baseball, track, lacrosse and tennis—and the football eleven for next fall are drilling for difficult schedules. With the freshmen squads there are around 250 on the various fields.

Baseball, lacrosse and track appear to have the up-to-the-standard squads but the tennis combination has been riddled.

Twenty On Diamond Squad

COACH BURTON SHIPLEY of the baseball team has more sophs than vets but appears to be pretty well set except for infield talent. He has Vic Willis and Ford Loker, pitchers; John Gormley, catcher; Jack Stonebraker, infielder; Al Waters, first; Charlie Keller, Bernie Buscher and Ed Daly, outfielders, left from last year.

Southpaw George Wood, and Kyle Ruble, pitchers; Karl Freas, first; Waverly Wheeler and John Hurley, infielders; Fred Thomas, catcher, and John McCarthy, Bill Bryant, Mike Surgent and Jack Egan, outfielders, are the leading rookies. In all, Shipley has about 20 candidates.

Hunting Defense Men

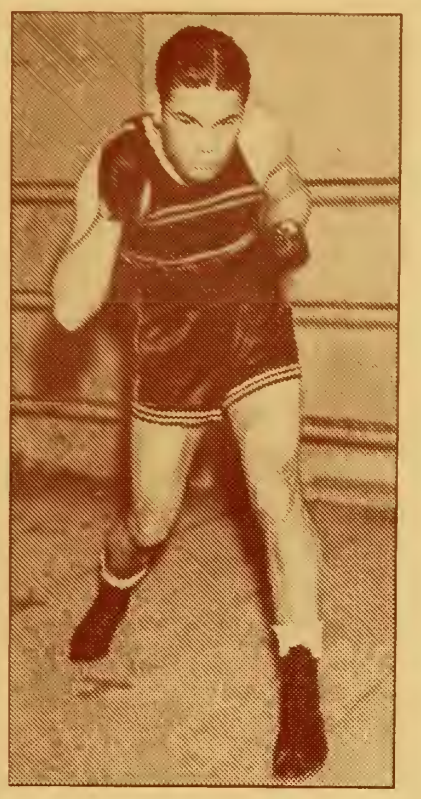
FINDING a couple of defense men is the main task of the lacrosse team, that has about 30 aspirants. John Kelly, goal; Louis Ennis, Jim Hart and Charlie Yaeger, defense; Oden Bowie, Herb Brill, Ike Rabbitt, John Christhilf, Charlie Ellinger, Pierce McCubbin and Bob Hammerlund, attack, are the chief leftovers.

Bob Waters, goal; Tom Koontz, Bob Walton, Bill Towson, Charlie Heaton, Bill Wolfe and Bill Aitcheson, defense; Gorton Lindsay, George Watson, Bill Groff and John Muncks, attack, are newcomers of promise. Walton, Wolfe and Aitcheson, along with Coach Jack Faber were to spend some time with the grid squad before going with the stick pastime. Al Heagy was the major domo at the outset.

Many Track Dependables

BILL GUCKEYSON, who probably will confine his efforts to the javelin and shot; Joe Ryan, sprinter; Bob Slye, hurdler and broad jumper; Coleman Headley, half and mile; Bob Beall and Charlie Orcutt, distance men; Wilbur Duvall, high jump and pole vault; Alton Sanford, dashes and 440; Jack Herbsleb, javelin; Selby Frank, half; Joe Galligher, half and high jump; Charlie Zulick, shot, and Carl Stalfort, discus, are leading track performers Geary Eppley has left from last year. Bob Archer and Warren Evans, two great quarter-milers, completed their track activities with the Old Liners with the close of the indoor season.

Kenneth Fine, sprinter; Conrad Gebelein, 440; Bill Thies, 440 and high jump; Frank Cronin, 880 and pole vault; Halbert Evans, hurdles and 440; and Million Daneker, 880 and weights, are athletes who came up from last year's frosh, who are being banked upon. Thies and Cronin already have proved their worth in indoor competition.



IVAN NEDOMATSKY

Welterweight who scored two kayoes in gaining 1936 title in annual tourney. His triumph was unusual as he had captured the crown as a lightweight the year previous.

Tennis Team Hard Hit

GRADUATIONS and the leaving of school by Maurice Schwartzman, ace in singles and doubles, just about wrecked Les Bopst's tennis outlook. He has only John Rintoul, Bob Land, Bill Meloy and Keaciel Krulevitz from 1936.

Edmund Beacham, Leonard Posner and Ted Lehman are newcomers who should help. But the team will not approach the one that took six out of eight matches last spring.

Linemen Get Attention

DEVELOPING linemen is the major objective of the spring football practice that has more than 40 in uniform. Vic Willis, end, and Frank Dearmey, center, are the only two regular linemen left from 1935, although Mike Surgent and Bill Wolfe, guards shared the position on the right side last fall, and Ed Fletcher, guard, and Blair Smith, an end, also got letters.

Bill Guckeyson, Coleman Headley, Charlie Ellinger, John Gormley, Jack Stonebraker, Ed Daly and Waverly Wheeler, all of whom will take part in regular spring sports, present an array of leftover backs of enough experience to give Maryland little worry in this direction.

53 Contests Are Scheduled For Four Spring Pastimes

MARYLAND teams in four sports—baseball, lacrosse, track and tennis—are scheduled to take part in 54 contests with 33 of the tilts at College Park. A number of the other events also are so close by as to be "home" affairs.

Ohio State, Cornell, Rutgers, Army and Navy are among the teams on the various lists, with the Midshipmen the only school that will be engaged in all four pastimes. Several others appear in all save lacrosse.

Baseball takes up about half the schedule with 25 games, the tennis and track teams each have 10 meets while the lacrosse squad is down for eight battles.

Mississippi State Tilt Off

Maryland will not play Mississippi State in football at Jackson next December 5 as arranged. State had a chance to enter a series with Florida and Maryland readily agreed to abolish the clash. As it is, the Terps still have 10 hard contests.

Alumni In New York Have Get-Together

When the boxing team made its sojourn to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, the New York Alumni group turned out in a representative number to cheer the boys on. Following the meeting, an alumni dinner, and dance was held at Cafe Loyale in New York City. Some fifty people attended. Don Kieffer, president of the Club, and his aids are doing a fine job in keeping the old Maryland spirit alive in the metropolitan city.

Shortly after graduation she married James Crotty, also of the class of '35. All who knew them intimately referred to them as a perfect couple.

The NEWS takes this occasion to express the sincere condolences of the Alumni Association to Jim and to Betti's many friends on the loss of so fine a character.

Varsity-Alumni Lacrosse Game Saturday, April 11, at College Park

It is becoming an annual affair when former players of the Indian game return to College Park to match experience with youth. The story goes around that they "ain't what they used to be," but there are usually enough on hand to substitute, often causing the youngsters to step out.

The varsity boys admit they learn many a trick from the old masters. Jack Faber also gets lots of enjoyment out of seeing his former pupils on and off the field.

Here's your chance to again try your hand with the stick. Equipment will be furnished. Write Jack you will be here. It will be like a family reunion.

Annual Alumni Reunion To Attract Many Old Grads

During the past 20 years, he has rendered invaluable aid to the State of Maryland and to his University by his suggestions of policies to the legislature. He has evolved and perfected an untold growth for the University.

and the others will come in for just consideration above all else.

Faber, of course, will keep up his great work as head mentor of the stickmen, and Heagy will go along with lacrosse and frosh basket-ball also. Joe Deckman, All-America defense man of several years back, will tutor the yearling stickers.

Mackert, head of the physical education department, is greatly broadening the scope of intramural pastimes and rapidly assuming so many responsibilities that he is pressed for time. He has made remarkable strides and directs the activities of more persons than any other faculty member on the campus.

Burton Shipley, of course, is a fixture as head coach of basket-ball and baseball and in charge of equipment.

In fact, the only thing left to be done is to properly work Dobson into the organization and that does not appear to be a big problem in view of his attitude and that of the present staff members.

Finding a varsity boxing coach to replace Captain Jack Harmony, whose tour of duty at College Park ends in June, is the biggest job that confronts the athletic leaders. He is unusual in coaching ability and in handling youth.

Harford County Group Revived With Good Meeting

Another county group took on new life and held a splendid get-together at Bel Air, in Harford County. Seventy-five alumni and friends were present for the annual dinner, followed by a program in which Mr. H. C. Byrd, '08, President of the University, gave a resume of the University's progress and its proposed program. A moving picture of a Maryland football game was shown, to the delight of the group. The president of the group, W. B. Munnikheysen, presided, and introduced H. C. Whiteford, '01, as the toastmaster. The arrangement committee made up of Joe Endslow, '26, and H. "Hap" Carroll, '18, are due many compliments for their work.

Baltimore Group Establish Rennert Hotel As Headquarters

Concerted efforts are being made in Baltimore to organize an active alumni group. Chester Tawney, '31, employed by the Household Finance Corporation, is taking an active role. He is being ably assisted by Bob Kent, Buck Miller, and John Silkman.

CHESTER TAWNEY

The Rennert Hotel has been designated by the group as their headquarters. Here they meet on the first and fourth Thursdays of the month. The next meeting will be Thursday, April 23, at 6:30 P. M. It is expected eventually to have an Alumni Club room at the hotel as a permanent meeting place. There is now on file at the hotel for the convenience of those who are visiting the city a roster of the alumni located in Baltimore. The hotel announces that special consideration will be given alumni from out of the city. Alumni, make this your headquarters while in Baltimore.

Birmingham President S. G. A.

One of the early spring events on the campus is the election of Student Government Association officers for next year. When the final balloting was tabulated, Tom Birmingham, a Maryland boy from Sparrows Point, was elected president; Coleman Headley, a College Park product will assist Tom as vice-president; Flora Waldman, a native of Washington, D. C., won the secretarial honors. All are outstanding students and the honor accorded them is in recognition of their active interest in the student affairs as well as those of the University.

Crisp-Lombardo Head Leagues

Other elections of interest are those of the Men's and Women's League. Mike Lombardo will head the former and Jean Barnesley the latter. Jean is a sister of Catherine Barnesley, '30. There is another sister, June, who will graduate this year. All are members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Mary Bee Crisp, daughter of A. B. Crisp, '07, himself an officeholder in his class during his college days, has been elected vice-president of the Women's League.

Philadelphia Group Continue Enthusiastic Meetings

In the Continental City the annual spring round-up of alumni was held on April 14th. A. Moulton McNutt, '06, and his able secretary, J. P. Mudd, '07, made the arrangements for the meeting which more than 50 alumni, their wives, husbands, and friends attended.

A short talk on the progress of the University was made by G. F. Pollock, Alumni Secretary, after which a moving picture of the Maryland-Georgetown University football game was shown.

Famous Scientist To Study Chesapeake Bay Fisheries

Under the auspices of the University of Maryland, an internationally famous scientist in the person of Dr. A. D. Valdykov, said to be one of the foremost fishery biologists in the world, has been secured for an eighteen month study of the Chesapeake Bay fisheries. According to Dr. R. V. Truitt, '14, Professor of Aquiculture and Director of the Chesapeake Bay Biological Laboratory at Solomon's Island, negotiations have been completed and Dr. Valdykov is expected in the early part of the summer. It is likely that headquarters will be established at the Laboratories at Solomon's Island.

Senator Radcliffe, a native of the Eastern Shore and one who is keenly interested in the development of the seafood industry, gave his cooperation to Dr. Truitt and the University authorities in bringing Dr. Valdykov to Maryland.

Dr. Valdykov comes from the Bureau of Fisheries of the Canadian Government where he was serving on the Biological Board.

In bringing Dr. Valdykov to Maryland it is considered one of the most important steps taken in the advancement of this study.

Tri Delta's In New Home

A new sorority house was officially opened in College Park last month. Delta Delta Delta held open house to more than 500 members of the faculty, students, and friends who viewed their new home on College Avenue. The house is on the north side of the street and is a brick construction of a Dutch Colonial design.

Among the attractive interior features is the large living room with a fireplace at each end of the room which gives a very homey atmosphere. The second floor arrangement includes a large sleeping porch, dormitory style, with dressing rooms on the second and third floors for two persons each.

On May 2, a dance is being held for Alumni.

Terrapin Club Have Rally

A splendid turnout of old grads was recorded by the Terrapin Alumni Luncheon Club at a recent meeting held at Scholl's Cafe in Washington, D. C. Captain John W. Harmony, boxing coach, spoke on the boxing progress at Maryland. This is Captain Harmony's last year at Maryland as his military assignment terminates this fall. Dr. T. B. Symons, president of the Alumni Association, gave a few remarks. More than 60 Old Liners, led by Fred Linton, were on hand. So much enthusiasm was exhibited, it was decided to hold more of such meetings in the future.

OLD LINE ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

By W. H. ("Bill") Hottel

Spring Sports Teams Get Off To A Successful Start; Cronin Leaps To New Pole Vault Mark In First Meet

SPRING SPORTS got off to a good start with baseball, lacrosse, track and tennis doing well in their early tests.

Rain put quite a crimp in the baseball outfits' early schedule, as the team was able to play only five of the first ten tilts booked, winning three of them. Ohio State was beaten in the opener, 5 to 2, and an even break was obtained with Cornell in home tilts. Then on a road jaunt, the Terps bowed to Richmond and trimmed V. M. I.

In a renewal of the home games, Michigan was beaten, 14 to 13.

Burton Shipley has two fine pitchers in Vic Willis and Lefty George Wood, exceptional infielders in Jack Stonebraker and Waverly Wheeler and one of the best outfields in college baseball in Bill Bryant, Charlie Keller and Bill Guckeyson. Keller was shifted back to the outfield from short and Guckeyson came to the diamond sport after an arm ailment checked him from the strenuous duty of tossing the javelin, shot and discus for the track team. He's a sweet ball player.

THE Terp lacrosse squad with a capable defense, led by Lou Ennis and Jim Hart, and an attack that is just about the best in college ranks in Charlie Ellinger, Herby Brill and John Christhilf, veterans, and Parker Lindsay, sophomore, got little more than practice on its opening two tilts.

Harvard was beaten, 15 to 2 and a scrappy alumni crowd was taken into tow, 15 to 0. Coaches Jack Faber and Al Heagy opined that the first two games told them very little.

It remained for the Baltimore A. C., previous conqueror of Johns Hopkins 8 to 4, to really test the mettle of the Old Liners. Made up of former college and school stars, such as Phil and Ed Lotz, Pete Reynolds and the Kelly brothers, the B. A. C. presented a powerful aggregation.

Maryland, though, proved superior and won, 9 to 6.

FRANK CRONIN'S pole vaulting feat of 12 feet 4¾ inches against Virginia Tech, for a new Maryland record, was the high light of the early track campaign in which the Gobblers and Washington and Lee were decisively beaten on a jaunt into the old Dominion, and V. M. I. conquered in the first showing before the home folks. Coach Swede Eppley predicted before the season began that Cronin would clear the bar at 12 feet 6 before the schedule was finished.

Cronin, who hails from Bel Air, also is a great runner in any distance from the 220 to the 880 and should share the spotlight with Coleman Headley, who steps the quarter, half and mile with equal facility. Bob Slye, hurdler and broad jumper, also should shine in all of the meets. He rang up 15 points against V. P. I.

Charlie Zulick, brother of Earl who still holds the Maryland shotput mark, is hurling the 16-pound ball in good style and should develop into a star. Another brother of a noted Terp star, Halbert Evans, also bids fair to carry on where Warren left off. He is a hurdler and runner.

Joe Ryan and Kenneth Fink also give the Terps a pair of sprinters to bank upon.

LES BOPST, not to be outdone by his fellow mentors, also sent his tennis team off on the right foot by trimming William and Mary, 9 to 0, in the opening match and following it up by a victory over Richmond U., 5 to 4.

Bopst lost many of his 1935 dependables and while he has no outstanding performer the team is well balanced. Keaciel Krulevitz and Edmund Beacham appear to be his most consistent players, the former being a particularly strong court general.

Swimming Pool To Be

Plans for the proposed swimming pool are progressing nicely. President Byrd, in a conference with representatives of the student body, informed them that blueprints are ready for inspection. This will be a tremendous asset to the physical facilities of the University. The formation of the swimming club has engendered much interest in the sport.

Field Day On May 2 Is Sure To Offer All Kinds Of Thrills

BIGGER and better, as the circus men would say, Maryland's nineteenth annual field day will be staged at College Park on May 2 with a half dozen attractions on the program.

While the big day is slated primarily for the school boys of the State, District of Columbia and vicinity, with a track meet of 13 open events and eight closed to county high schools, the "side shows" need no barkers.

Every one of Maryland's varsity teams will be paraded that day, Coach Swede Eppley's tracksters against Richmond in a meet to be run concurrently with the scholastic competition; Burton Shipley's diamonders against a powerful Georgetown nine; Les Bopst's racket swingers against Catholic University, and in the finale, a fitting one, Jack Faber's lacrosse team against Mount Washington, rated the king bee of the stick-wielding pastime.

The whole show to the average fan will be one buck, but an arrangement has been made whereby students can see the affair for 25 cents. This is through a special ticket, that must be obtained from the principal of their high school, and it will not be on sale the day of the meet.

Here is the complete program with the times:

10:00—Freshman Tennis—Tech High
12:30—Interscholastic Track Meet
1:00—Varsity Dual Track Meet—Richmond
1:00—Varsity Tennis—Catholic U.
3:00—Varsity Baseball—Georgetown
4:00—Varsity Lacrosse—Mt. Wash'ton Club

Football Squad Ends Toil; Sessions Encourage Dobson

SPRING football practice was brought to a close after five weeks, with a scrimmage with Navy at Annapolis on April 18. Previously two scrimmages were staged with Catholic University and four with George Washington.

The practice, in charge of Frank Dobson, was mainly in such fundamentals as blocking, charging and tackling and the search was for linemen. Dobson, although the 1935 frosh, with whom he worked mainly in the spring drills, were not up to the standard he feels that he will get some of the needed forwards out of the bunch.

Jim Meade, a back, though, was the only outstanding soph-to-be next fall in the squad. He is from Port Deposit and is a brother-in-law of George Morrison who played football and managed the year book some eight years ago.

Guckeyson Hot On Diamond

Geary Eppley lost a wonderful trackman when Bill Guckeyson's arm and shoulder went bad from a nerve ailment, but Burton Shipley gained a great outfielder. Guckeyson, who averaged 14 points in six dual meets last spring, roams the outfield like an antelope and he also can "hit that apple."

because every alumnus likes to see the Old Liners in action.

Headquarters University Gym.

Alumni headquarters will be established at the Gym where all old grads are urged to come for a general get-together during the morning. Here the alumni buffet luncheon will be served to alumni, their wives, husbands and friends at a nominal charge.

During the forenoon a pause will be made for a short business session of the Association during which time officers for the coming year will be elected. Those offices to be filled are president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, representative of the College of Arts and Sciences, and two members at large, one for men and one for women.

Athletic Events In Afternoon

In the afternoon the old grads will go to the Byrd Stadium where the annual track and field meet will be staged, to be followed by a lacrosse game with the Old Liners entertaining the veteran stick wielders of the Mount Washington Lacrosse Club of Baltimore. During the afternoon, two other varsity teams will be seen in action, the track team will run a dual meet with the University of Richmond, and the baseball team will battle it out with Georgetown University, with the tennis boys meeting Catholic University.

In the evening, fraternities and sororities will have open houses for their alumni. This day is celebrated each year as a day of reunion of the University of Maryland Alumni; a day to renew old acquaintances and make new ones; a day to show your loyalty to your Alma Mater. Do not miss it! Your absence spoils the day for your friends.

Dental Alumni Arranging Large Reunion for June Week

On Friday, June 5, at the Lord Baltimore Hotel, Baltimore, the faculty of the School of Dentistry will present to the school, through the Alumni Association at its annual dinner, a portrait of Dr. J. Ben Robinson, Dean. Many plans are being made for the occasion. Since Dr. Robinson has been president of the American Association of Dental Schools, the American College of Dentists, and is active in other national dental organizations, many prominent members of the dental profession as well as friends are expected to attend.

Ball Field Is Improved

There have been two improvements to the baseball field. An electric scoreboard has been installed just to the right of first base base and a "snow fence" has been put around the outfield. It still takes an honest clout to get a homer, as the fence is 360 feet from the home plate in right and left fields and 400 feet in center.
